

Support & information for people living with a diagnosis or traits of borderline personality disorder (BPD)

Coproduced with service users, family/parent carers and Suffolk User Forum

What is borderline personality disorder?

Borderline personality disorder (BPD) is a type of personality disorder. We might be diagnosed with borderline personality disorder if we have difficulties with how we think and feel about ourselves and other people. And if these difficulties make it hard to cope day to day.

People's experiences of living with BPD are different for different people. We may experience emotions that are very intense, overwhelming, or changeable. We may also experience difficulties with relationships or our sense of identity. National Minds page on experiences of BPD has more information on what it's like living with BPD.

We may also hear people use other names for BPD, such as:

- Emotionally unstable personality disorder (EUPD)
- Emotional intensity disorder (EID)
- Borderline pattern personality disorder (borderline pattern PD)

Some people find a BPD diagnosis helpful and explains much of what they have been experiencing. Other people find it an unhelpful or stigmatizing label, that implies our personality is disordered. Sometimes psychiatrists may say they have given us a 'working diagnosis of personality disorder', sometimes they say we have traits of personality disorder.

This booklet sets out local, national, and online resources that can help us to find helpful ways to manage living with some of the symptoms and experiences of borderline personality disorder. If there are resources that have helped you, please do share them with us, so we can include them in this booklet.

Local Support in Suffolk

1. Waves - a community service for those of us who live with complex emotional needs delivered by staff at Suffolk Mind in Ipswich and Bury St Edmunds, providing a safe, supportive, and empowering environment.

The groups meet bi-weekly and deliver a positive programme of activities when we are ready to work on new skills to help develop and maintain emotional wellbeing.

How to join Waves - We can self-refer to Waves; however, there is a waiting list.

Contact Suffolk Mind on 0300 111 6000 or send an email to waves@suffolkmind.org.uk

More information can be found on the Suffolk Mind website;
<https://www.suffolkmind.org.uk/services/personality-disorder-service-waves/>

2. Suffolk Night Owls - This support service is open Thursday to Sunday 8pm to 2am. We first need to register with Suffolk Night Owls at;
<https://www.suffolkmind.org.uk/services/suffolk-night-owls-telephone-support-line/>

Support line workers have access to a support plan that we write when we first register setting how we wish to be supported in a crisis - call Suffolk Mind on 0300 111 6000.

3. Survivors in Transition (SiT) – for some of us who live with personality disorder, we live with a history of sexual abuse. SiT supports all genders who have experienced sexual abuse in childhood, through a range of trauma informed, psycho-educational activities including one to one and group therapy, counselling, advocacy, research, and training to become empowered and improve self-esteem and resilience.

Find out more on their website.

LISTEN explores ways of managing suicidal thoughts and feelings. It provides a step-by-step process for helping others connect with someone in distress, reaching out with kindness and compassion, saving lives.

Connecting and sharing our worries and thoughts can help us get through difficult times, to see our problems in a different way. It can help us to slow down our thoughts and begin to explore other solutions.

Connecting with ourselves, giving ourselves time and the belief that we are worthy of being cared about, worthy of support and help. Connecting with others, by reaching out and talking to someone we can trust. Download here LISTEN-for-suicide-prevention

Apps

The best overall resources people tell us about currently are.

1. www.mindcharity.co.uk/advice-information/how-to-look-after-your-mental-health/apps-for-wellbeing-and-mental-health/ don't think this is the right link as cannot find any apps?
This app includes: Elefriends, WRAP (wellness recovery plan); Daylio – mood diary; Five Ways to Wellbeing.
2. StayAlive app for those who are at risk of suicidal thoughts or who are caring for someone who is living with suicidal thoughts.

This app is a great tool to support you through those difficult feelings and thoughts. It is designed for us living here in Suffolk, with both local and national resources.
